How do I apply to CFI Gateway?

First you must be apply to and be selected into University Gateway. Once you are already accepted and have started instructing at UND, you can then apply to CFI Gateway. The application windows for both programs will open later in the semester. If you are interested in the programs, be sure to provide your contact information to JetBlue either by attending one of the information sessions at UND or sending an email to UniversityGateway@jetblue.com. By providing your information, you will receive notifications on the application process for both programs.

Will JetBlue alert me when I have met my requirements and am ready to become a first officer?

No. You are responsible for updating your mentor and JetBlue as you progress through the program and meet all required gates. As with anything in your career, you must be proactive and be an advocate for yourself.

What if I am selected into CFI Gateway but decide not to continue on that path?

All pilots selected into CFI Gateway have already been selected into University Gateway. If you decide not to pursue the CFI Gateway, you may stay in the regular University Gateway but must choose one of the regular time-building options in that program. If you choose to fly for a carrier that is not an approved option, you will no longer be considered part of University Gateway and you will not be eligible to become a pilot at JetBlue through this program.

Is it possible to lose my conditional job offer?

There are certain gates that you must complete in order for your conditional job offer to remain valid. These gates include completing the required elements of the program, as well as meeting all hiring requirements as specified by JetBlue. You also must be able to successfully pass a criminal background check, drug test and have a acceptable PRIA. If you fail to meet any of these requirements, you will not be eligible to become a pilot at JetBlue through this program.
